Defendants-Appellees.

Appeal from the United States District Court for the Eastern District of Texas
(5:93-CV-74)

(August 1, 1994)

Before REAVLEY, DAVIS and DeMOSS, Circuit Judges.

PER CURIAM:*

James L. Walker-El, a former inmate of the Federal Correctional Institution at Texarkana, Texas, appeals the district court's denial of his Rule 60(b) motion. Because

*Local Rule 47.5 provides: "The publication of opinions that have no precedential value and merely decide particular cases on the basis of well-settled principles of law imposes needless expense on the public and burdens on the legal profession." Pursuant to that Rule, the Court has determined that this opinion should not be published.

Walker-El supported his motion with nothing more than conclusory statements, the denial of his motion was within the district court's discretion. See Smith v. Alumax Extrusions, Inc., 868 F.2d 1469, 1471 (5th Cir. 1989) (stating that appellate review of district court's ruling on a Rule 60(b) motion is limited to abuse of discretion).

AFFIRMED.
